1	Cooper Landing School is part of a tight-knit community where volunteerism is a way of life. If there is a need, community members will step up to find a solution. That mentality is no different at the school. If there is a need, we will work to solve it. Here students are more than just a number– we are a family, we are a team. We inspire and cheer each other on no matter the task. We may not have a designated sports team, but the entire school is our team. Students create bonds for life. Education is personalized and fit to meet student needs. Students can express things that they are interested in learning about and feel comfortable about asking for help. I enjoy having the same students year after year because you really get to know them. You already know where they were at skills-wise at the end of the year and can pick up in that spot the following year.	4/28/2023 7:24 PM
2	Cooper Landing School has many strengths, one of them being we work together through many things. This could be disagreements, school work, or just life in general. We also get one-on-one help from the teachers because its such a small school.	4/27/2023 9:09 AM

Q3 What are areas need assistance, or could be done better?

1	On the same token, it is challenging to meet everyone's needs all of the time. It can become overwhelming to plan material/lessons for so many different grades at a time. Also, there are not enough hours in the day to accomplish everything. Planning has to be done before or after school, there is no time during the day when we are not with students. I often feel in the dark about district-wide tasks, events, going-ons, etc... I wish there was a magical binder that listed the due dates and tasks that all teachers/staff are supposed to complete and when. Perhaps there is, but I have no idea where to find it. I have limited connections to other teachers outside of Cooper Landing and often feel isolated. While I am fine with being left to my own devices, it becomes a challenge when there is a task that is required to be done, but I had no idea it existed or how it's even supposed to be done, it becomes frustrating. It gets further frustrating when I have no additional time in the day to figure it out.	4/28/2023 7:24 PM
