SMCS Education Program - Approach

Multi-age Classrooms: our Montessori curriculum, with the exception of kindergarten, is delivered in three year cycles in multi-age classrooms;

Hands-on Learning: our school emphasizes hands-on learning using many concrete learning materials, including specific Montessori manipulatives;

Grace and Courtesy: students learn to recognize and respect the rights and needs of themselves and others. Students are encouraged to solve problems using peaceful words and actions. School practices encourage self-regulation and conflict resolution by using the Conscious Discipline program;

SMCS Education Program - Approach

Field Studies: field studies encourage students to gain information and experience from the real world as well as apply their own knowledge in real world situations;

Understanding and Gaining Deep Respect for the Natural World: our curriculum incorporates many opportunities to interact with the natural environment through instructional activities, research and field studies;

Global Understanding: students learn about culture, global issues and the vast diversity of people and ideas in our world;

Follow the Child: instruction is differentiated according to individual student readiness, academic performance and student interest;

SMCS Education Program - Approach

Community Service: students learn to make a contribution to others and to society through community service;

Student Investigation and Research: Students conduct class and individual investigations as a common method for acquiring curriculum knowledge. Technology, library archives, guest speakers and field studies support student research efforts;

Self-Direction and Student Accountability: students in all grades gain experience in time management and work responsibility. Students develop self-direction and accountability in their day;

SMCS Education Program - Approach

Practical Life Skills: children use Practical Life Skills to take care of the classroom, themselves and the environment. They also learn to properly utilize technology, manage time and organize effectively. Early practical life skills are also used to develop concentration skills, help develop fine and gross motor control and help develop impulse control. Practical life skills may also include learning to use technology, time management, and organization skills.

SMCS Facility

SMCS is located at 158 E. Park Avenue, Soldotna, Alaska in a shared space with Soldotna Elementary School.

Shared space with SOEL.

- Playground
- PE
- Music
- Library

SMCS welcomes the potential move to a new location, presumably Redoubt Elementary building. The SMCS School community would like information about when this move would occur.

SMCS Admission

- SMCS is at capacity and uses a lottery process to fill vacant seats at the school.
- SMCS lottery application window is from January 1 through the end of February.
- The lottery is held the 1st Monday in March each year and the results are appended to the existing lottery waitlist.
- The lottery is conducted by The Coghill Group and certified public accounting firm.
- Students are admitted from the waitlist in the order they are drawn as vacancies occur within the school for the corresponding grade level vacancy.
- In the event a grade level lottery waitlist is exhausted, the school fills a vacancy in the order general applications are received.
- SMCS has Sibling and Staff Children enrollment preference policies.
